Outcome of the Event

The Young Orators Club successfully organized the second edition of its flagship event, Just a Minute (JAM) 2.0, on 28th February 2025 at the D7 Seminar Hall, AU2 Block. Following the overwhelming success of JAM 1.0, this edition attracted a diverse group of highly enthusiastic first-year students who stepped up to test their spontaneity and speaking skills in front of an eager audience.

JAM 2.0 provided an interactive platform where participants were challenged to speak on a random topic for one uninterrupted minute, without hesitation, deviation, or repetition. The topics were varied and stimulating, ranging from humorous observations to socially relevant issues, giving participants the opportunity to showcase their quick thinking, creativity, and command over language.

The event saw over [insert number] participants, judged by a panel of esteemed faculty members and club representatives, who evaluated each performance based on presence of mind, fluency, content delivery, and audience engagement. The competition was marked by sharp wit, insightful takes, and confident presentations — a true testament to the budding oratory talent within the university.

Beyond the competition, JAM 2.0 served as a confidence-building platform for students who often find it challenging to speak on the spot. It encouraged students to break free from stage fear and boosted their communication and critical thinking abilities in a supportive and encouraging environment.

The winners were felicitated with trophies and certificates of excellence, while all participants received certificates of participation. The event concluded with a vote of thanks and applause for the organizing team, whose efforts ensured seamless execution of the program.

JAM 2.0 successfully upheld the core vision of the Young Orators Club — to nurture articulate, confident, and thoughtful communicators — and set a high benchmark for future oratory events on campus.
