The ROOMinate was a hands-on workshop conducted under DroidLinX, focusing on database management in Android using ROOM. The session covered the essentials of ROOM Database, including creating entities, defining DAO interfaces, and performing CRUD operations efficiently.

Participants learned:

- ✓ The fundamentals of ROOM Database architecture.
- ✓ How to use DAO (Data Access Object) for database queries.
- ✓ Implementing LiveData & ViewModel for real-time data handling.
- ✓ Integrating Jetpack Compose UI with ROOM Database.
- ✓ Developing a fully functional mini-project, reinforcing all concepts learned.

The workshop followed a practical, project-based approach, ensuring students gained not just theoretical knowledge but also real-world implementation skills. By the end of the session, participants were equipped with the expertise to build scalable Android applications with efficient local storage solutions.

Objectives:

The primary objective of ROOMinate was to provide students with hands-on experience in Jetpack Compose and ROOM Database, enabling them to build modern, efficient, and data-driven Android applications. The workshop aimed to:

- Introduce ROOM Database as a robust and efficient data storage solution in Android.
- Demonstrate how to integrate Jetpack Compose with ROOM for seamless UI interactions.
- Help students understand Entity-Relation Mapping, DAO (Data Access Object) implementation, and LiveData usage.
